PREFACE

Sometimes in our lives we need something to trigger the underlying desire that could have been lying unused over a long period of time. As you know, Jonah had to be transported by a big whale in order to get to where God wanted him to minister. It therefore gives me such pleasure to realise that it had to take me a storm in my life to realise that the writing of this book was long overdue. I thank God the Almighty for this opportunity to share my life with you as you read this book.

This is a raw story of my life which I believe will open your eyes and mind more so that you come to the understanding that ‘You are not a mistake and nothing about you is a mistake’. You are actually the best thing that ever happened to humanity, and that is how I would like you to portray yourself from now on. Sometimes we undermine certain little occurrences in our lives and we think they were just some additional things. No they are not. They serve a very distinct role, so take care of them.

I would like to request you to fasten your seatbelt as you read this fascinating book, because I am saying things like I know them and like they happened in my life and in the lives of many I saw around me. Please sit back and read with understanding and the attitude to bring better changes to humanity.

Let me take this time to thank all the important people who have contributed to the consolidation of this book:

- » My mother – the woman who gave birth to an unmistakable apostle
- » My grandmother – the woman who raised an apostle up
- » Tshepang – my sister who helped type this book in a shortest time
- » My other sisters who supported me and gave inputs as I wrote
- » My children – Retshegofetse and Tsholofelo for giving me time to sit, ignore them for a while and put this book together
- » My editors
- » My Pastor – for always listening to God and prophesying as I was in the process of writing this book

I would like to dedicate this book to all women, especially my sisters and to men who would like to make a difference. It is the deepest desire of my heart to see all people liberated and believing in themselves because we are all wonderfully and purposefully made. You were created to serve a definite purpose, with the character you have, the skills you have and the type of person you are. So get up and serve God with the you in you!!!

1. Introduction and background to the story of my life

It gives me such great pleasure to present the raw story of my life to humanity as I believe that some people might just need to hear this so that they will understand that it is good to be who they are. It is good that they were born in families they were born in whether it be rich families; very poor families; families of uneducated bunch of people; families where marriages do not occur or do not last; families where male folks die ‘prematurely’ or mainly by accident or tragically; families where women take leadership roles in almost everything but they don’t have the luck of being married. Whatever family you may have been born in, you are well placed! Whatever time of life you were born in – you were born at the right time!

It really excites me to own up to some portion of scripture in the Bible and to actually make complete sense out of it, as it relates exactly to who I am and why I came to be. Jeremiah 1: 4-10:

V4-5: “The word of the Lord came to me saying, before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I set you apart; I appointed you as a prophet to the nations;

V7 & 10: But the Lord said to me 'Do not say I am only a child. You must go to everyone I send you to and say whatever I command you. Do not be afraid of them, for I am with you and will rescue you, declares the Lord.'

These are the words that make complete sense of who I am and why I was born in the type of family I was born in and at the time I was born. I believe with all my heart that God called me and knew me long before I was born. I also believe that he planned it so well that I was born of the mother and father who bore me. It does not matter to God that I never had an opportunity no matter how hard I tried it to know who my father was. The genes that he deposited in me, together with those of my mother fit squarely into the purpose of God in my life. The size of my body, the speed at which I speak, the type of my voice, my intellectual capacity, the brains I have – I believe I got these from God but I got a portion of what they had – all so perfect for use in my ministry to God in relation to what my complete purpose is!

God knew me before I was formed in my mother's womb and he set me apart as a 'Business Apostle' to the nations. This is exciting and marvellous because I promise you, God is an excellent planner of our lives. He plans our lives so well and makes sure that even before we are born or as we are in the process of getting to accomplish those plans, he puts relevant resources in place and sends relevant people with relevant responsibilities to come and perform very particular tasks and roles in our lives so that we can be on our way to our destined mission. When those people have accomplished their purpose in helping us to get onto our route, they will then have to leave us alone to complete the journey to our mission.

Believe you me, this sounds crazy but it is very true. Some people may just come your way even before you are born or conceived just for them to donate a sperm or a womb to carry you for nine months, so that you are born carrying the character you have, which you will need for the call of God throughout your life. After serving their purpose then they leave your mother to raise you alone and you never even get to know them and they never get to know you! In some instances some mothers decide to dump you in a dustbin or they die just after giving birth to you and you are raised by someone else not even related to you. But the important thing here is that you will be having the genes, the blood, the character or personality of the right parents anyway.

That is why I believe that when it comes to the purpose of God about your life – the issue of legitimacy or illegitimacy is immaterial. God is no respecter of persons. When he calls you or anoints you for his works he will not be limited by anything, not even who your parents are or what colour, race, religion, sex, size, creed or any of the differentiating factors you are. He calls you for his purpose! Period! God can use anyone. He chooses whoever he wants to use at any given time. He may also choose to use people from a particular family to demonstrate his power in a particular sphere of faith. The operations of God are a mystery we all still need to discover and he discloses that to those who come closer to him by faith. Every day, he reveals something new and powerful. It is therefore our duty to have a very close relationship with him so that he can trust us enough to reveal his mysteries to us!

These things that I am saying here about God's calling and that as God calls you, appoints you and anoints you, he supports you with relevant people to help you towards achieving God's will; these will be unpacked in chapters to come in this book as I explain my encounter with God.
